

Letter from Gardiner Greene Hubbard to Alexander Graham Bell, September 27, 1892, with transcript

L. 1892. G.G.H. to A.G.B. Sept. 27,

What have you done about your meeting to be held at Northampton next week? I have heard nothing of it, the notices should be sent out early next week. The should all be prepared and ready to be acted upon, and if thought wise Mr. Lyon should be made our agent.

I will of course do anything I can to help you. Ask Mabel if I left any vests or a white coat at your house. I am not so rich in these articles as when I left home.

The weather is beautiful and we are all enjoying it.

With love.
